PRINCE ANDREW GIRL'S 'KINKY SEX ACT'

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

AN artist claims the women who accused Prince Andrew of noncercy performed oral sex on her to turn on meganonce financier Jeffrey Epstein.

Rina Oh alleges in court papers that in the early autumn of 2001, while in Epstein's house, a "giggling" Virginia Giuffre "performed oral sex" on her as the twisted millionaire watched and performed a sex act on himself.

Cops slammed over search for crash victims

A PAL of the victims of a fatal car crash in Cardiff has criticised police search efforts, claiming members of the public found the vehicle before officers.

Eve Smith, 21 (above), Darcy Ross, 21, and Rafel Jeanne, 24, died after the Volkswagen Tiguan they were travelling in came off the A48(M) in the Welsh capital and crashed into trees.

Sophie Russon, 20, and Shane Loughlin, 32, who were in the same vehicle, suffered serious injuries.

All five were reported missing following a night out on Saturday.

Tamzin Samuels, 20, said: "I think the police could have done a lot more in putting the helicopters out earlier."

"They only posted the appeal an hour before the girls were found."

"The search party found the girls before the police did. That speaks volumes really."

Song Contest ticket frenzy

POP fans became frenzied yesterday when tickets for the Eurovision Song Contest went on sale.

Nine shows in total will be available for fans to watch at the Liverpool ACC, ranging from semi-final dress rehearsals, all the way through to the live grand final on May 13.

While the Merseyside venue can hold 11,000, it's thought around 6,000 tickets per show were made available through Ticketmaster, with fan space reduced for the huge stage.

Ticket prices ranged from £30 to £380 across the nine shows.

As parts of Britain shiver in -15C cold snap... SNOW JOKE!

GOATHLAND, NORTH YORKS

ALNWICK CASTLE, NORTHUMBERLAND

BRITAIN woke up to heavy snow yesterday after a heavy arctic blast swept across the nation.

Icy weather arrived in central and southern areas of England and Wales yesterday after snowfall swept in from Scotland on Monday night, when the Met Office issued a yellow weather warning for snow and ice.

Last night was Britain's coldest night of the year so far, with temperatures falling to -10C in rural areas of the North, and as low as -3C or -4C in the South.

In Highland areas of Scotland the mercury touched -15C.

The forecaster has also warned that up to 15ins of snowfall could hit the UK this week as blizzards and heavy snow are forecast in the north on Thursday and Friday.

Meanwhile, four of five coal plants that had been kept on standby were being warmed up "for potential use".

The cold snap once again shows that so-called "green" power is bollocks.

A number of schools were closed in Aberdeenshire yesterday due to heavy snow making key roads inaccessible for many.

It comes as a yellow weather warning is also in place for London, the Thames Valley, East Anglia, parts of the Midlands and South Wales.

An identical warning is in place in Northern Ireland.

Launch ends in Jap rocket blowing up

JAPAN was forced to blow up its new rocket during a failed launch yesterday, setting back efforts to crack a market led by Elon Musk's Space X.

Its space agency had to send a self-destruct command to the H3 rocket when its second-stage engine failed minutes after lift-off.

Observers said it is a significant setback for Japan's Aerospace Exploration Agency, while the government called the test failure "extremely regrettable".

The H3 rocket is the first medium-lift rocket designed by Japan in three decades.

It has been presented as a cheaper alternative to SpaceX's Falcon 9 for launching commercial and government satellites into the Earth's orbit.

Yesterday, engineers had aimed to send the 187ft rocket into space with a monitoring satellite on board, and the ALOS-3 system is capable of detecting North Korean missile launches.

Yesterday's launch came after an aborted launch last month, when a rocket failed to get off the launch pad due to faulty boosters.

RISHI AND SUELLA UNVEIL LATEST PLAN TO STOP ILLEGAL MIGRANTS...

TOUGHER NEW MEASURES: PM Rishi Sunak (left) and (below right) Suella Braverman

RISHI Sunak yesterday introduced tough new measures to try and deter migrants entering the UK on small boats.

The Illegal Migration Bill will put a duty on the Home Secretary to detain and deport anyone who enters the country illegally.

It will also prevent those arriving illegally from claiming asylum or returning to the UK in future.

Labour leader Sir Keir Starmer has described the plans as "unworkable".

Meanwhile, Home Secretary Suella Braverman said the bill would push "the boundaries of international law" without breaking it, saying this was needed to "solve this crisis".

The Prime Minister said the plans were "fair for those at home and those who have a legitimate claim to asylum".

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

More than 45,000 people entered the UK via Channel crossings last year – up from around 300 in 2018 – leading to pressure on the Government to tackle the issue.

Under the new plans, the Home Secretary's "duty to remove" would take precedence in law over someone's right to claim asylum, although there would be exemptions for the under-18s and those with serious medical conditions.

Anyone removed would also not be permitted to return to the UK or to seek British citizenship in future.

While the bill will not become law for several months it will apply retrospectively, meaning anyone arriving in the UK illegally from yesterday will be at risk of deportation under the law.

The new law is expected to strain the UK's commitment to the European Convention on Human Rights and the UN's Refugee Convention, which currently give rights to asylum seekers arriving in the UK.

A refugee is a person who has been forced to leave their country in order to escape war, persecution, or natural disaster, where a migrant refers more broadly to anyone who moves from one place to another.

Under the new law, the Home Secretary would have a duty to remove all those arriving illegally to Rwanda or a "safe" third country "as soon as is reasonably practicable", no matter where they had come from.

French strike travel chaos

PEOPLE travelling to France suffered disruption yesterday due to strikes over pension reforms.

Flights, ferry crossings and rail services were all affected, with companies including Eurostar and P&O Ferries hit by delays.

Unions are staging a general strike in France over proposed pension changes, which include raising the retirement age from 62 to 64.

It's the sixth big strike since January and protests are planned in Paris.

With the French government showing no sign of backing down on its pension plan, one union leader has warned of escalation and "bringing the country to its knees", with calls to extend the strikes to key sectors like power generation and gas terminals.

GREGGS AIMING FOR 3,000+ SHOPS

GREGGS has revealed big expansion plans after reporting record high sales, as consumers flocked to the bakery chain for low-cost meals amid a cost-of-living squeeze.

The group has been extending its opening hours and is set to trial a new 24-hour drive-thru.

The chain, which already has around 2,330 shops, said there is a "clear opportunity" to have significantly more than 3,000 shops across the UK over time.

Roisin Currie, Greggs' Chief Executive, said its growth strategy involves adding 150 new shops every year, adding: "We believe we have enough momentum to continue with that target for the foreseeable future."

Greggs opened a record 186 new shops this year, and closed 39, with new chains popping up in transport hubs like railway stations and airports, retail parks and drive-thrus.

This year it is set to trial a drive-thru that will be open 24 hours, although Ms Currie said the location has not yet been decided.

It comes as Greggs revealed its total sales hit a record high of £1.5 billion last year, up by nearly a quarter on the previous year.

The former Love Island babe, who now rakes in a fortune via OnlyFans, was gobsmacked at the news there has been a 24% global increase in the size of willies.

A study found that the average length of an erect penis has risen from 4.8ins to 6ins.

And it's safe to say that Megan is now keen on becoming a cougar – an older woman who lusts after younger lovers.

Taking to her Instagram stories, Megan shared a post from Vice News which reported the bigger cocks study.

The report was originally published by a team of researchers from Stanford,

Emory University, and other unis in Italy.

Examining 75 different research papers published between 1942 and 2021, which reported erect penis measurements in a total of 55,761 men, the study is certainly eye-opening.

The Stanford paper found “an increase in the average erect penile length in men from 1992 to 2021”, which has clearly got sexy Megan feeling hot under the collar.

She posted: “Some good news – always fancied myself as a cougar.”

This comes after it was revealed Megan has raked in a whopping £1.5million in the last two years from creating OnlyFans content.

She shot to fame on the ITV2 dating show in 2018, and now charges fans £21-a-month to access her site, where she has X-rated content.

Brits admit popping cherry at 17

THE majority of Brits had sex for the first time before they reached the age of 20, according to a new survey.

Of the 4,006 people aged 18 to 60+ who were asked by YouGov when they lost their virginity, 6% said they hadn't yet had sex, while 10% couldn't remember and 22% declined to answer.

Of those remaining, the median age at which they popped their cherry was 17.

In fact, half of British people said they had sex for the first time between the ages of 16 and 18, while 19% admitted to doing it before 16 – the age of consent.

Shagging dogs cause mayhem during sermon

A CHURCH service took an unusual turn after two frisky dogs started shagging in the middle of the priest's sermon.

The scandalous scene (above) occurred while Father Pierre Mauricio was presiding over a service at the Church of Santa Rita in the Brazilian city of Juiz de Fora in Minas Gerais.

In video footage, the minister is seen giving a sermon at the altar while two stray pups frolic about onstage.

Little did the priest know that his talk was about to be interrupted by the dogs' sex act.

Mauricio starts speaking on the role of the church during the Carnival celebrations, when suddenly, as if on cue, one of pooches mounts its companion.

Mauricio puts his face in his palm as he comments on the scene unfolding before him, quipping: "My children, you cannot do that here... please go to the woods," causing several church-goers to laugh.

AS COP DRAMA RETURNS FOR A NEW SERIES...

THE BAY BOOBS BARED

CLAIRE GOOSE

The Bay - ITV Wednesday 9pm

MORECAMBE is best known as being a seaside town where the sea is a very long way away.

But now it's also becoming famous as the setting for top ITV cop drama The Bay.

The fourth series returns to our screens tonight with actress Marsha Thomason as DS Jenn Townsend.

The actress, 47 - who joined the cast in the third series and is previously known for her role in American police series White Collar - is reunited with her co-star Daniel Ryan, who plays DI Anthony Manning.

Marsha shot to fame via roles in Pie in the Sky, Playing the Field and Where the Heart Is, although for the best part of 15 years prior to The Bay coming along, she worked in the US, where she settled with her husband and child.

The actress proved a hit with fans after replacing Morven Christie as the crime drama's central character last year.

Also returning to the ITV drama - which is co-created and written by Daragh Carville - is Ryan, whose previous television credits include Innocent and Home Fires.

Pleased

Happy Valley fans will also be pleased to learn that Joe Armstrong, who starred in the first series, and Karl Davies, aka Catherine Cawood's son Daniel, are among the guest cast for this new series, which also includes Casualty beauty Claire Goose and Christopher Coghill.

Anyway, here's a look at Marsha and Claire's busters - now, isn't that better than a wet weekend in Morecambe?!

FINGERING DOES NOT COUNT

BLOWJOBS, licking out, handjobs, and fingering are NOT considered to be sex, according to the majority of people aged 18 to 49, a new survey shows.

According to new YouGov data, Brits are divided over what can be considered sexual intercourse.

The market research and data analytics firm asked 5,807 adults in the UK what they considered to count as "sex" and it's safe to say we all have different views depending on things like age and sexuality.

Whether it be oral sex on a man or oral sex on a woman, the results are the same - 44-45% consider that act, on its own, to not count as "having sex".

By contrast, 40-41% disagree, saying that it does count (8% are unsure and 7% prefer not to say).

The generational divide also comes into play, with Brits over 50 considering oral sex to count as having sex (54-56%), compared to 29% who say it is not.

But go under the age of 50 and these figures are basically reversed, with handjobs and fingering both generally seen as not counting as having sex by themselves - 52% in the case of the former, and 48% for the latter.

Musk shares concern over no-sex nerds

ELON Musk is worried brainy nerd blokes are not getting enough sex!

The Twitter boss (above) replied to a tweet from a user called Bronwyn Williams, who referenced research saying youths with IQs over 130 are "3-5 times less likely" to have had sex than those with average IQs.

"Boys with an IQ that would qualify for intellectual disability (60) were still more likely to have had sex than those with a very high IQ (130)," the tweet said, adding that this "does not bode well for humanity."

"Super concerning," Musk tweeted in reply.

Williams's tweet references a research paper published in The Journal of Adolescent Health in 2000, titled "Smart teens don't have sex (or kiss much either)."

The study tracked 12,000 adolescents in the US to determine the link between intelligence and sexual activity.

Musk is known to frequently tweet about population collapse.

OAP window tosser fined

A PENSIONER who tugged himself off as a woman danced naked in the window of a town centre flat has been handed a community order.

Kevin Stewart, 70, was arrested after he was seen with his trousers round his ankles while stood in front of a window in Whitehaven, Cumbria.

There was a female "completely naked" in the window dancing in front of him, Workington Magistrates' Court heard.

After receiving a tip-off from a witness, a police officer at the scene saw Stewart with his nose up against the glass while performing a sex act.

Stewart pleaded guilty to an act of outraging public decency at a hearing on November 22.

He was given a six-month community order, with 15 rehabilitation activity requirement days, fined £80 and ordered to pay £85 costs and a £95 victim surcharge.

New twist in meganonce Epstein saga PRINCE ANDREW GIRL LICKED ME OUT

LEGAL CLAIM: Rina Oh

ONE of Jeffrey Epstein's accused recruiters has filed legal claims against Virginia Roberts Giuffre, detailing how Giuffre allegedly performed oral sex on her to turn on the meganonce financier.

Rina Oh, 43, alleges in new Manhattan Supreme Court papers that in autumn 2001, while in Epstein's Upper East Side townhouse, she had a "giggling" massage a "performed oral sex" on her as the twisted millionaire watched on and masturbated.

Oh said in a separate interview that it was clear that something was off with Epstein.

She said that he had an "egg-shaped, deformed" cock, backing up previous claims about Epstein's penis, and speculated that it came from wanking too much.

"I was thinking I wanted it to stop," she said of Giuffre's alleged sexual assault on her.

"I wanted it to end as quickly as possible." Oh made the allegations against Giuffre in the latest court salvo between the pair, who have been duking it out since 2021, when Oh filed an £8.3m defamation case against Giuffre for naming her as an Epstein recruiter.

Oh, recounting Giuffre's alleged assault on her in 2001, said in court papers that when she first arrived at the townhouse with a friend, they were escorted by a butler to the massage room and that she was "in shock" when she saw Giuffre, whom she had met on prior occasions.

Oh was 22 at the time, while Giuffre was 18 and Epstein 48. "All of a sudden, within moments of entering the room, we were naked," Oh said.

Giuffre, who previously said she was abused and sex-trafficked by Epstein, first performed "sexual acts" with him, the court papers claim.

"Then she stopped doing it and went over to me," Oh told The New York Post.

"I was standing, and two women, my friend and Giuffre, were touching me at the same time."

According to the court papers "Giuffre grabbed Oh's ribcage, diaphragm, breasts and genitals" all without her consent, before performing oral sex on her.

During the encounter, Giuffre "became rougher and aggressive" with Oh "at the request of Jeffrey Epstein," the court papers allege.

When Epstein, who died behind bars in Manhattan in 2019, had finished masturbating, he told Oh "to get dressed and leave," the filing claims.

Gratification

"It was just another masturbation session for him, and I was used as the subject for his gratification," Oh added.

Oh, a Jersey City-based artist, used to describe the hedge-funder as her "older, rich boyfriend" but has since said she realised she was really a victim of "sexual abuse" by Epstein "and his gang".

Giuffre fired back in a lawsuit from December claiming Oh's defamation case was retaliation and an attempt to punish her for Twitter posts, including one saying Oh "procured and partook in the abuse of minors", that are protected free speech under the US Constitution.

But Oh responded: "She has been bullying me to silence me when I am a victim."

"I never touched her. She did things to my body without my consent."

Giuffre, who has been described as Epstein's "sex slave", alleged that Epstein sex-trafficked her to Prince Andrew.

She claimed the Duke of York had sex with her three times, in a lawsuit against the royal.

Andrew, who was stripped of his military and royal titles in January 2022, settled Giuffre's case for an estimated £10m in February 2022.

GOGGLEBOX star Dame Sheila Hancock claims she was "axed" from the show after "angering" bosses when she complained about the amount of nudity she was being made to watch on shows like Naked Attraction.

Sheila, 90 (above), appeared alongside her pal Gyles Brandreth on the celebrity version of the C4 series.

The actress, who recently appeared on ITV's Unforgotten, said: "I used to love doing it with Gyles, but they sacked me from that. Well, they didn't ask me back."

"I think it was because there was a lot of shows with penises in, and because it went down well with the audience, they kept showing them to us."

"Eventually I phoned up the lady on the edit and said, 'I'm enjoying the show but do you think we can have anything other than penises?' And she was quite angry!"

"I went in imagining they wanted me for my wit and brain. They just want to show you willies and for you to be shocked."

Outrage at X-rated sex education...

RISHI TO BAN WANKING CLASSES!

REVIEW: PM
Rishi SunakBy MAGGIE DURY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

RISHI Sunak is set to launch a review of "age-inappropriate" sex education materials in schools, which would lead to a ban on kids being taught how to masturbate by drag queens.

The Prime Minister has told several colleagues he's alarmed about the content of Relationship and Sex Education lessons taught in classrooms across the country. Last week, he was presented with a dossier of evidence by MPs showing that "unsuitably sexually explicit" teaching resources and lessons presenting so-called "gender fluidity" as fact have been prepared for kids.

Evidence

The evidence, collated by the New Social Covenant Unit think tank, includes case studies of primary school children as young as nine being taught about masturbation.

In other instances, the think tank found kids had been "indoctrinated" with contested gender ideology theories that could make them question if they have been born in the wrong body.

Miriam Cates, the Conservative MP for Pennistone and Stockbridge, delivered the 130-page report to the PM and has urged him to consider a "public inquiry", saying: "It's becoming more and more clear how inappropriate materials are. This is a widespread problem."

She said that the teaching of trans identification in schools has become increasingly common and could be contributing to a rise in the number of kids seeking medical intervention, including puberty blockers and hormone treatment.

Safeguarding

The report argues a moratorium on aspects of RSE teaching may be necessary to "halt a widespread culture of safeguarding failure".

And it raises concerns about the influence of third-party providers on RSE in schools.

Nick Fletcher, the Conservative MP for Don Valley, also confronted Mr Sunak, calling for a meeting with the PM to discuss "how we can stop this unscientific ideological education being taught in our schools and get our children learning what they should be learning".

Hungry migrants shot down eagle

TWO illegal migrants were arrested after gunning down a North American bald eagle with the intention of cooking and eating it.

The two men were later identified as Ramiro Hernandez-Tziquin and Domingo Zetino-Hernandez, both 20 and Honduran nationals living in Norfolk, Nebraska.

The duo indicated to authorities that they "planned on cooking and eating the bird".

Nebraska Game and Parks was contacted and took custody of the dead eagle and the rifle used to kill the bird of prey.

Both Hernandez-Tziquin and Zetino-Hernandez were cited for unlawful possession of the eagle.

The bald eagle is the national bird of the US and appears on its seal.

Hilton memoir spills beans on THAT sex tape

PARIS Hilton has spilled the beans on a sex tape featuring her and former boyfriend Rick Salomon in her forthcoming book.

In Paris: The Memoir, the hotel heiress (above) claims that she was pressured into making the tape despite her "making excuses" not to as she "felt weird and uncomfortable about it".

Paris, 42, previously opened up about the "humiliating" experience and said she suffered post-traumatic stress disorder as a result of the tape being leaked on the internet.

In an extract of her book, she said she was 18 when she began dating a "coarse" and "arrogant" man.

Although she doesn't name him in the book, Salomon released the video shortly after The Simple Life, starring Paris and pal Nicole Richie, which debuted in 2004.

She later released a statement saying she did not approve of its public release and that she was "out of it" during the taping of the video.

Naked woman shot in frying pan attack

A HOMEOWNER shot a nude woman who came into his house and started whacking him round the head with a frying pan.

The man managed to push her back outside onto the porch, where she started banging on the kitchen window and yelling at the homeowner to get out of HER house or she would kill him.

"The female then began beating on the same door in which she made entry previously, at which time the homeowner discharged his firearm, striking the female in the lower leg area," cops in Carroll County, Virginia, said.

Identified as Paula Michelle Locklear, the woman was taken to a hospital where she was treated and released.

She was charged with breaking and entering, assault and battery, and property damage.

The shooting was later justified as self-defence, and no charges will be filed against the man.

The practical joker bought the device in a shop in Hamburg while on a hen do and loves to surprise people when they first meet her.

Darelle, 34C, from Welwyn Garden City, Herts, confessed: "People think butter wouldn't melt in my mouth, but I am a real trickster."

"I love my hand buzzer and I've got a whoopee cushion that I use to great effect and a fake dog poo that I love leaving around."

"It's so funny!"

ELVIS GIRL: SEX WITH MY HUBBY WAS WEIRD!

GIGGLES: Riley and Ben romp in show

DAISY Jones & The Six star Riley Keough said filming an intimate scene with her real-life husband Ben Smith-Petersen was "weird".

While the actress, who is Elvis Presley's granddaughter, may be fine with her hubby in the comfort of their own home, Riley recalled how the sex scene was "weirder" than she had ever imagined.

Daisy Jones & The Six is a TV mini-series based on the book of the same name, which tells the story of Daisy and her band, The Six, who quickly rise to fame in the 1970s.

Gutted

But after a sold-out show in Chicago, the group decide to call it a day, leaving gutted fans in shock.

Now, many decades later, the band have agreed to reveal the truth as to why they quit while they were on top of the music world.

The show features a cameo from Ben and also stars Sam Claflin, Suki Waterhouse, Camila Morrone, Will Harrison and Sebastian Chacon.

Speaking on Late Night with Seth Myers, Riley said: "The cameo came about because I have to have intercourse with a random person in the show, and the producers were like, 'It would be so funny if it was your husband'."

Myers then asked: "Was that more or less awkward?" and she said, "It was more awkward!"

Riley added: "I think they were thinking it would be less awkward, and then we got there and they're like, 'This is really uncomfortable'."

"For one, I've never had pretend sex with my husband. And for two, typically when you do these things you get down to business and it's very professional."

"But with him... we were just giggling the whole time."

Modern life hits women for sex

THE stresses of modern life are more likely to affect the sex lives of middle-aged women than the menopause, research published in the Journal of Sex Research shows.

The study of more than 2,000 women found very few women linked their menopause experience to a reduction in the frequency or quality of their sexual activity.

Instead, they claimed the weight of pressure put on middle-aged women left them so busy they had little time or energy to enjoy a regular and satisfying sex life.

Of the women aged 40-59 who were quizzed, a third had not had sex in the past month and less than half were dissatisfied with their sex lives.

COME TO OZ FOR MORE BONKING!

THOUSANDS of Brits are considering a move to Australia after being wooed with more SEX!

At least 60,000 Brits are said to have shown an interest in the scheme, with Aussie minister Paul Papalia bragging: "We are the new Love Island!"

Papalia (below) is leading a delegation of West Australians on a nine-day tour of the UK, with the aim of recruiting 30,000 Brits to work in the state's public sector across a range of industries, including the police, hospitals and hospitality.

The delegation also wants to recruit doctors, teachers and civil engineers.

Papalia said: "If you're a single Brit, come on out as you may not be single for long!"

And speaking of the country's draws, he said: "Our lower cost of living, higher wages and magnificent weather. What's not to like?!"

He is also charged with completing an election commitment to recruit 950 more police officers to the WA Police Force, to put it back on 2021 staffing levels.

‘Catty’ school boss scratches off Christians

A SCHOOL governor who thinks she’s a CAT wants Christians banned from the classroom.

The Washington Elementary School District, which serves pupils in the Phoenix and Glendale areas of Arizona, had a contract with Arizona Christian University for five years, enabling their student teachers to be placed in its schools for work experience.

But now school bosses have agreed on a motion to dissolve the partnership with the Christian university, to “create a safe place for our LGBTQ+ students, staff, and community”.

During a meeting, school board governor Tamillia Valenzuela (above) slammed the university over its Christian beliefs and said that she was “disheartened” to learn about the contract.

She wore cat ears during the board meeting and claims to be a feline.

TODAY'S THE DAY WE CELEBRATE LADIES FROM AROUND THE WORLD...

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S WAHEY!

By SUZY SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

INTERNATIONAL Women's Day was a communist idea that was hijacked by the bra-burning feminists of the 1960s.

As neither Communists nor feminists are known for their – how can we say? – love of life, IWD has not been celebrated as an altogether joyous occasion.

Over the years it's been a bunch of sour-faced spinsters with hairy legs moaning and groaning about stuff.

Curves

Today we put that right.

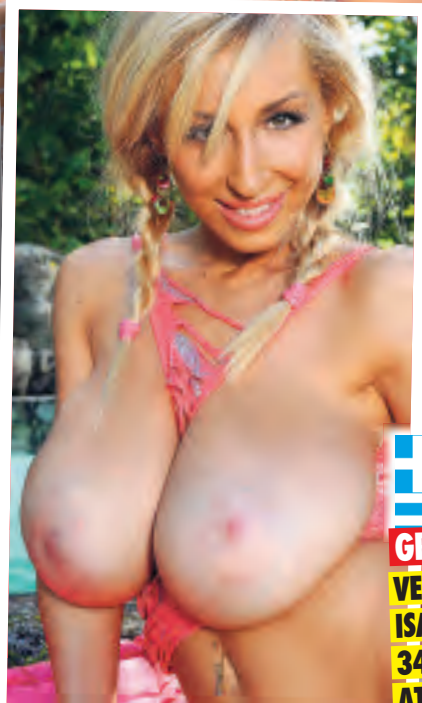

Today on International Women's Day, we celebrate international women.

That's right, we've got five pages of ladies from around the world showing off their womanly curves (that means "busters" for you at the back).

Now isn't that a better way to celebrate women's contribution to the world?

'I also love a finger in there – nice and gentle'

MY fave sexual fantasy is bum fun – receiving it and giving it!

It feels taboo and so naughty!

I wouldn't do it with a just any one-night stand. I've got to be feeling really horny and it's usually with someone I feel super relaxed with who

I've known a while.

But when I'm in the mood I really go for it.

I love licking a guy's arse when he's really into it.

Tongue

And I get immensely turned on having a tongue flick across mine, too.

Having that done while my clit is rubbed drives me wild.

I also love a finger in there – nice and gentle – with lots of lube.

When a bloke works me up first, I'll be begging him to penetrate my arse.

The whole build-up makes me explode when I orgasm.

And if a guy is into a bit of role reversal and enjoys pegging, I'm up for that, too.

Randy coke hippos face deportation

The Colombian government wants to send his "cocaine hippos" to Mexico and India because the sexed-up mammals won't stop shagging!

The hippos, who are descendants of four animals imported illegally from Africa by the late cartel boss (above) in the 1980s, have been left to reproduce after his death in a shootout with police in 1993.

Environmental authorities estimate the population of the beasts has grown to about 130, and with no natural predators, it could more than triple by 2031.

The government is now proposing the transfer of at least 70 of the hippos.

Experts warn that the oversexed hippos could put other wildlife in the Magdalena River between Medellin and Bogota at risk because their urine and faeces change the composition of the water.

Naked jogger is held over spud peeler murder

A MAN fled naked after stabbing his aunt to death with a potato peeler.

Officers responded to a report of a domestic incident with a weapon in Gary, Indiana, and found a woman with multiple stab wounds inside the house.

A witness inside the home said she had seen her cousin on top of the victim – Jacqueline Peden, 52 – stabbing her with what turned out to be a spud-peeler.

The victim had told her to run, and she fled the residence seeking help. However, the suspect had disappeared by the time officers arrived.

Cops later found the suspect, Jonathan Benyoun, 36, running naked and placed him under arrest.

Benyouan has since been charged with murder and public nudity. He is due to be taken to the Lake County Jail.

FIRST FEELING OF FREEDOM:

FIRST FEELING OF FREEDOM:
Pam modelled for

BAYWATCH beauty Pamela Anderson says she used to suffer from “debilitating” shyness before she posed naked for Playboy.

The actress and model rose to fame as one of the original stars in the Nineties TV show and as a pin-up.

In an interview, Pam called herself "painfully shy" as she lacked self-confidence and didn't see herself as being pretty.

Pam, now 55, explained: "I became painfully shy, and the shyness was something that was so debilitating.

"When I was little, I would wear a hat over my head and pull the hole closed, so I could only see out a tiny amount.”

Talking about her forthcoming memoirs, she added: "I hated the way I looked, I hated everything. "I was so shy, and I always thought everybody was pretty, and I just didn't have that confidence or self-confidence."

But rather than completely shying away from the spotlight, Pamela revealed that a photo shoot for Playboy actually gave her a "first feeling of freedom" — but only after she was begged to take part.

Pamela turned down Playboy owner Hugh Hefner the first time he asked her to take part, before she finally relented and agreed to model.

Recalling the discussions, Pamela said: "I was in Vancouver and Playboy approached me a few times and I said no.

"Finally, I was in a situation and thought, 'Why not? Let me try this'. Then I got to LA and I was horrified."

Reflecting on the moment she first got in front of the camera for Playboy, she said: "I did my first photo shoot with Playboy... it was the first flash when I opened my eyes and it felt like I was falling off a cliff."

"It really felt like I was just... allowing, instead of trying to control. And it was my first feeling of freedom.

"Then I was off to the races!"

SEXY Lana Parker isn't bothered whether she has a QUICKIE or goes hell for leather in a MARATHON BONK, just so long as she gets a good shag.

The beauty, from Reigate in Surrey, said: "Having sex all night can be so fun and really satisfying, but sometimes you just need a quick release."

"I think it depends on the situation, too. If you're in a place where you can only get away with a quick shag, a quickie can be perfect."

"But if you've got all night together, I love to take my time and do it all over again."

If thoughts of bonking the blonde bombshell weren't enough to make you hot under the collar, she also wants to film herself in the act.

The 32DD stunna added: "I think it would be really naughty and fun to film myself and a guy having sex."

"And then we could watch it back together."

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

A scandal of global proportion

TESTICLE MUNCHER:
Hancock

HAVE you spent the best part of the last three years being called a "COVID-denier"?

Many people have. In fact, just about anyone who queried the need and efficiency of wearing a face mask was vilified.

Not washing your hands every 30 seconds turned you into a modern-day leper.

Standing less than two metres apart from someone would spark furious rows in supermarket queues and accusations of being a "spreader".

Remember the Queen sitting by herself at her husband's funeral?

The pensioner whose funeral was held in isolation with none of their family to say goodbye?

The drone launched by Derbyshire Police used to gleefully embarrass a couple who'd taken themselves out for a walk on the deserted, windswept plains of the Peak District?

Or the people told off for sitting on an outdoor park bench for "too long"?

Now, thanks to the unveiling of secret Government WhatsApp messages, we know that a lot of it was absolute bollocks.

It certainly wasn't "following the science".

Exaggerated

It was following bad, exaggerated advice, but woe betide anyone who dared to question it.

The messages are hideously embarrassing for the disgraced former Health Secretary and kangaroo testicle muncher Matt Hancock.

They reveal how the giant machine of Government and its civil service virtually went to war against the UK's own citizens.

We were only locked down in our homes because China, which has always enjoyed locking its own people up, had already started doing it.

And we only insisted on schoolkids pointlessly wearing useless face masks – even though there was no "science" to indicate they were at risk of the virus – because Nicola Sturgeon did it.

We were supposedly saving our grandparents' lives by abandoning them in infected nursing homes or waving to them from the garden gate.

Or we were blowing the national credit card on eye-wateringly expensive furlough schemes and eat-out-to-help-out deals.

If that's following "science", so is saluting at two magpies or fixing a "lucky" rabbit's foot on your keyring.

Through this, the media chorus was almost orchestrated.

Anyone denouncing any of the madness had to be denounced themselves.

The word "scandal" gets bandied about so much these days that its power of offence – like that of "far right" – is now simply something that far left whiners constantly bleat.

But this really was a scandal.

A true scandal.

A scandal of epic and global proportion.

Everyone should be outraged by what we have learned from these WhatsApp messages, while also being happy they are now in the public realm.

But no.

Integrity

The journalist who scooped the world with the story has been attacked by other journalists for her supposed lack of integrity in breaching a non-disclosure agreement she had previously signed.

Yet I'll bet she wouldn't have signed that agreement if she'd known then what was inside that tranche of info about the worldwide pandemic.

And just like you wouldn't leave your newborn baby in the care of a killer shark, you don't place such explosive information into a reporter's hands and not expect it to blow up.

Don't shoot the messenger, they always say.

But for all those "messengers" out there who dismissed people's rightful concerns and questions, who did the lockdown and vaccine cheerleading, perhaps they might consider a trip to the study with a bottle of Scotch and a pistol...

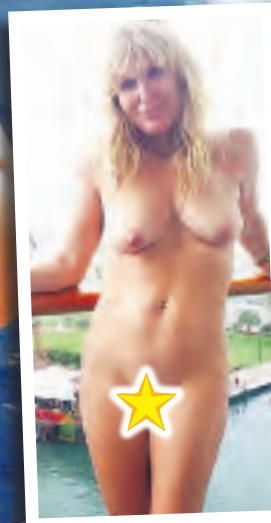

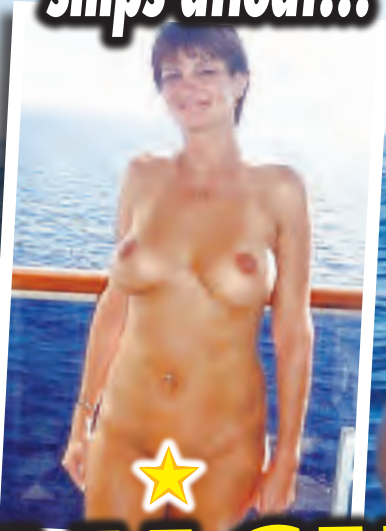

The truth is the vast majority of commentators backed all the above without properly challenging it.

And the only reason they're sniping at the hack who landed the scoop is because she caught the biggest fish in the river, and they didn't.

Top copper sent card cock over bagel shop bust

A POLICE commissioner sent an underling a cardboard COCK, then denied him a promotion, as revenge for the cop reporting the superior's side hustle at a bagel shop, according to a £10million lawsuit.

In addition to the fake phallus in a box, Sgt John Beatty claims Rockville Centre, Long Island, Police Commissioner James Vafeades (above) posted a photo of Beatty's face on a rat's body inside the precinct, after he exposed the boss's moonlighting, according to the Brooklyn Federal Court papers.

Vafeades was a lieutenant in 2017 when Beatty walked into Wantagh Bagel and spotted him behind the counter, Beatty said in the litigation.

But Vafeades, who plunked down £120,000 for an ownership share of the shop, allegedly didn't get the extra work approved by the department.

Vafeades was quizzed about the arrangement, but it didn't stop him from being promoted in 2018.

Biker gave cops the finger before crash

A MOTORCYCLIST is lucky to be alive after he sped through a red light while fleeing from police officers and flipping them the bird seconds before getting T-boned by an oncoming truck.

A group of bikers who were "popping wheelies" were asked to pull over by cops from Volusia County Sheriff's Office in Florida. The group ignored the requests and decided to speed off, leading police on a high-speed chase.

Dashcam footage shows the bikers recklessly weaving in between cars at high speed and when approaching a red light, the group ignored it.

One of the gang, Joshua Richardson, looked back and gave cops the middle finger before continuing through an intersection - directly into the path of an oncoming truck.

He survived, but faces several charges including attempting to elude law enforcement and leaving the scene of a crash.

Sex trolls pile in after shagabout comic & girlfriend's smash

PETE'S CRASHED HIS CAR? THAT'S A BLOW!

Robert, Hoya (11 London 2 hours ago)
I'm thinking that she had a mouthful and a bit of hand work in this off road excursion.

COMEDIAN Pete Davidson's Merc was left a mangled wreck after the star spun it off the road "at high speed" and smashed into a fire hydrant.

The car came to a rest in the side of a house, while his girlfriend, Chase Sui Wonders, 26, was in the vehicle.

Davidson, 29, was driving the Mercedes through the Flats area of Beverly Hills when he lost control of the vehicle.

The Mercedes jumped the kerb and hit the hydrant before it then crashed into the side of a nearby house, cops said. Police say drugs and alcohol were not a factor in the crash.

But wags decided they had a pretty good idea of what had distracted the Yank comedian - who famously has an enormous penis.

One laughed: "He must have been getting a blowjob while driving."

Another scoffed: "I call - cough-cough - BJ - cough-cough."

Photographs show Davidson's damaged Mercedes following the crash, with its bonnet, windscreen and bumper smashed in, due to the force of the collision.

Thankfully, neither shagabout Pete or his pretty companion were injured in the smash.

And there is NO SUGGESTION of there being any truth in the trolls' rumours.

The crash occurred hours after Davidson had presented the Kids'

Choice Awards in L.A. Earlier that day, the couple had lounged on a beach in Hawaii before flying to the mainland for the ceremony.

Photos of the crash site also show although the car did not manage to enter the property, it caused extensive damage to the side of the house, narrowly missing a tree as it came off the road.

Tyre tracks can be seen furrowed deep into the front lawn of the home, while wooden panelling appears to have come away, with guttering also looking to have come loose.

An investigation is now ongoing.

Porn star Billie: I can't get a date

(...form an orderly queue, lads!)

AN OnlyFans porn star has fumed that men no longer want to date her because of her work in the adult industry.

Spunky-mouthed Billie Beever aired her frustrations in a TikTok video, claiming she's become "undatable" due to her work.

In a lengthy rant, she said she was sick of men rejecting her romantic advances despite them telling her she's "the ideal woman".

Aussie Billie said men frequently tell her they are her friend and that they respect her, but they can't be with her because of her past.

"We all have a past and we all have a history," she said. "The only difference is, I f**king filmed mine! Mine's on camera."

Billie complained that men are often happy to have sex with her, but never want to take the connection further.

"If you want to use my past, and like, not be able to give me an opportunity or whatever... because my videos are accessible for you and your mates to see, then that's a 'you problem', not a 'me problem'," she ranted.

Gator attacks man at his front door

A MAN was attacked by an alligator after opening his front door to investigate a strange sound.

Scott Hollingsworth described stepping outside his home in Daytona Beach, Florida, one evening: "Something grabbed me on the leg and started shaking violently."

Scott said he hadn't turned on a light, so he didn't get a good look at his assailant, but added that he initially thought it was a dog.

He said: "I stepped back into the house and closed the door."

"But when I looked down, I saw that I had a large gash in the side of my leg!"

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Bexie,

I LIVE in a semi which backs on to another one occupied by a very attractive young widow in her 30s.

I went round there one day to ask if she would mind me cutting the hedge between our houses.

After I'd finished, she made me a coffee and we sat in her kitchen chatting. Then, without warning, she stripped off and asked me if I'd like to shag her!

I couldn't believe my luck and I was soon deep inside the blonde beauty – and she was one hell of a ride.

She encouraged me to fill all her holes and enjoyed three climaxes during our 50-minute session while I shot my load all over her face and boobs.

Since then I've been back for more brilliant nookie. But what do I do if the wife finds out?

NL, Leeds

Bexie says...

I HOPE she DOES find out, you cheat.

Dear Bexie,

I'M in my late 30s and I have to admit that I have never been that successful with the ladies.

It's not that I haven't got anything useful in my trousers – in fact I've got a pretty impressive seven-incher – it's more to do with my unusual looks.

I have a really big nose – think Barry Manilow and then add a couple of extra inches – and most fit women run a mile when I come on to them.

But I have found a few women who are strangely attracted to my big hooter and I use it to the best of my ability by bonking babes with my "nasal knob".

I do get some satisfaction from this, but now I'm starting to worry there may be some health risks involved with this.

Should I use some kind of a nose condom?

MB, Devon

Bexie says...

I THINK the only problem you'll have is a permanent whiff of minge in your nostrils.

Filthy MILFS want to charge me £100 for a sex session

Dear Bexie,

I PULLED two crackers at a club in my local town.

They were both blonde and in their early 40s – and they were as dirty as a dog's arse!

I bought them a few drinks and then we got a cab back to my place.

They stripped off and I watched as they put on a lesbo show for me – licking each other out.

By then I was rock-hard and I got a grip of one of them and boned her from behind while the other licked my bollocks.

They then both sucked me off in turn and I ended up splashing my steaming hot ball brew on their faces.

I've shagged them a few times since, but the problem is that they now want £50 each for any future sessions!

I'm half tempted, because I'm 50 and I haven't got a chance of pulling more birds like these.

What do you think?

GS, Essex

ONLY if you can afford it.

Scheming office girl's got me by the balls!

Dear Bexie,

I'M a 43-year-old married man with my own repair business.

A few months ago I advertised for someone to answer the phone and take messages at my small office in the centre of town.

A girl aged 19 applied – she was bright and seemed perfect for the job so I took her on and she was a great help from the start.

But one day a few months ago I got into work to find her sobbing her little heart out.

She's had a big bust-up with her parents and they'd thrown her out! I felt sorry for her and consoled her as much as I could, but she was upset.

Kissed

Now I also own a couple of flats and one had been empty for a few weeks, after the previous tenants left to work abroad.

So I took her round to see it and told her that she could stay there until she got herself sorted out – either with her own place or if she ended up building bridges with her mum and dad and moved back into the family home.

Well, she was over the moon about my generous offer and I felt good about being able to help her out.

Over the following days I also helped her furnish the flat and soon she'd made it into a cosy little home for herself.

One evening she invited me for a meal, to thank me for everything, and when I arrived after work she was wearing the shortest skirt I'd ever seen.

After our meal we sat on the sofa – then she suddenly kissed me full-on!

She said she had wanted sex with me the first time she saw me.

I must say I found her very attractive and succumbed to her advances.

She stripped naked and then unzipped me and pulled out my stiff cock.

She massaged it for a while before guiding me into her moist love-hole.

I've always been a stayer and I managed to keep going for long enough to give her three orgasms before I shot my load.

Shortly after, I left to drive home. But when I reached my house my wife handed me a piece of paper with a phone number on it and told me to ring urgently.

I did, and it was my young office girl on the other end, aggressively saying she would not be coming to work the following day.

I asked her why the hell not – and she said she just didn't feel like it!

And since then she's turned up to work only a couple of times.

I can't do anything about it because she has threatened to tell the wife about our night of passion.

And she reckons she has our whole sordid night of lust recorded on a small webcam that she set up in the front room of the flat I'm letting her still live in – rent bloody free!

What can I do about this scheming little tart?

FW, Hampshire

Bexie says...

THREATEN to report her to the police for blackmail. And sack her. Immediately.

Dear Bexie,

A PAL of mine recently moved out of his home, leaving his missus a wreck.

All the wives in our circle rallied round and gave her what comfort they could while, no doubt, telling her all men are bastards.

One night she asked me if I'd go round and help her sort out her finances, me being an accountant.

I found her in a hell of a state, surrounded by paperwork and bills.

She was dressed in a housecoat and looked as if she'd been crying.

Once the paperwork was done, she sat beside me and stroked my thigh.

I've always fancied her but I was determined not to be tempted by her firm breasts swinging free inside her housecoat.

But I did not get the chance to resist as she pushed me back and pressed her lips to mine.

I responded and slipped her the tongue, as she grabbed my cock.

Then she begged me to suck on her tits and she was soon gagging for it.

So I flipped her on her front and shafted her from behind.

Now she's threatening to tell my wife – and ruin another marriage.

What should I do?

PR, Berks

Bexie says...

YOU got your sums wrong and may have to pay the price with a divorce.

I crave threesome with blonde & brunette pals

Dear Bexie,

I PULLED a cracking bit of skirt at a mate's 30th birthday party.

She was about 25, with long blonde hair, and her hot bod looked awesome in a skin-tight red dress.

We chatted at the bar for a while and after a couple of shots and glasses of fizz she said she was up for a night of shagging at her place!

In the back of the taxi, she was talking dirty to me and groping my cock through my strides.

So by the time we got to her flat, we were both ready for it. She lived with a friend, who was still sat up in the lounge watching telly.

But my girl told me not to worry as she threw me down on a couch, stripped off and got down on her hands and knees to give me an expert blowjob.

Screaming

I leaned back to enjoy the gobble as her brunette mate watched us at it while pulling her dressing gown open and rubbing her knickerless pussy.

After almost shooting my load twice, I gave her a clit a good licking before I banged her hard from behind until she was screaming with delight.

Meanwhile, her flatmate was ramming three fingers into her dripping hole while enjoying the floor show.

After I finally climaxed all over the blonde's arse, I got dressed and got a taxi home in the early hours.

Now I can't help thinking about a threesome with the pair of them. Is this normal?

TB, Manchester

PORN star Angel Wicky loves ogling her own collection of movies, and especially enjoys watching SEX SLAVE SHAGGING.

The exotic beauty, from Czech Republic, said she much prefers bonking indoors than taking things al fresco, because there are tons of kinky stuff she can do behind closed doors.

Busty Angel, who boasts an impressive pair of 32DD norks, said: "I like the comfort of shagging indoors and being able to close all the doors and do really kinky stuff that no-one else can see."

"I like to have a lovely comfy bed, decent music on, to get you in the mood, and access to porn and my collection of sex toys."

"I love to watch adult movies with a bloke, to get us both really revved up."

"Watching something hardcore allows you to let your inhibitions really go."

"I watch a lot of S&M stuff – naughty sex slaves who need punishing by their masters!"

GORGEOUS Annabelle Lee might look all sweet and innocent, but she's a DEVIL in the bedroom.

Annabelle, from Chelmsford in Essex, squeezed her curves into a kinky pair of lacy knickers and flaunted her intricate cross tattoo for this sensational photo shoot.

Reclining back on a grey sofa, the 30D webcam girl gave a tantalising glimpse of just what she's got to offer on her X-rated site.

She said: "I love teasing my fans with plenty of kinky content and naughty antics."

"I get loads of kin ky requests, some of which I'll happily do, but to some others I often have to say, 'You what?! Is that even possible?!'"

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

LISA FORWARD

THIS picture request of glamour veteran Lisa Forward is courtesy of hotel worker Alun Carter, from Torquay.

Alun, 56, said he's been a fan of the Sport since day one and always had a soft spot for the 34C scorchers from Fulham.

Alun emailed to ask for a pic of his favourite model, adding: "Lisa has always been my fave but we don't see much of her nowadays."

"She looks like the girl next door – until she gets her kit off!"

"It would really brighten up my day if I opened the Midweek Sport to see a photo of her."

CLAIRE RICHARDS

TRAFFIC warden Phil Norman would happily turn a blind eye if cute Claire Richards parked on double yellow lines.

Phil, 39, told us the 32D babe is his ideal woman and said he'd let her off a parking ticket every time – if he was lucky enough to run into her in their native north London area of Wembley.

He said: "In my line of work I meet gorgeous women all the time, who try to use their looks to get out of parking tickets."

"But I never pay attention, to be honest."

"But if Claire had parked her car illegally, I think I would let her leave it there!"

MICHELLE COLLINS

WE wonder what it was about big-boobed Michelle Collins that caught the eye of Glasgow plumber Niall Campbell.

The glamour legend, from Exeter, boasts an eye-watering pair of 34Fs and Niall, 51, told us he never gets bored of ogling them.

"Michelle has got to be one of the fittest models on the planet. She's way better than all of these reality TV stars," he said.

"It would make my day if you'd put a picture of her in the paper soon, cheers!"

HOPEFUL:
Samuel
Spade

Spade can dig out win for Pauling

BEN Pauling has highlighted the claims of Samuel Spade in the Boodles, as he prepares to go in search of a fourth Cheltenham Festival winner.

Willoughby Court got the Naunton Downs handler off the mark at Prestbury Park when winning the Neptune Investment Management Novices' Hurdle in 2017, while Le Breuil in the 2019 National Hunt Chase and, most recently, Global Citizen in the Grand Annual 12 months ago have added to his tally at National Hunt's showpiece meeting.

Pauling took a selection of his Cheltenham contenders to Kempton for a racecourse gallop as he puts the finishing touches to his squad's Festival preparations, and believes he has "a fairly strong hand" in the Boodles and that Samuel Spade is "probably one of our best chances of the week."

The four-year-old – who runs in the colours of Emma Palmer carried to victory at Cheltenham by Le Breuil – has won two of his three starts, impressing with a wide-margin success at Huntingdon most recently having chased home Perseus Way in the Chatteris Fen at the track on his penultimate run.

He said: "He's done it the hard way. He was only bought in October and we've got three runs into him. His form has worked out superbly well – even the horse that finished second in his Kempton race (Chaos Control) won at Market Rasen by 20-plus lengths.

"He gave 8lb to Perseus Way at Huntingdon and was only beaten three lengths, and Perseus Way has gone on to be touched off in the Adonis since and is now rated 132.

"He is probably one of our best chances of the week and I'm looking forward to seeing him out again on the Tuesday of Cheltenham."

THREE WINS: Pauling

Although he could be light of runners in the graded contests throughout the week, Pauling will be looking to make his mark in the handicaps and last year's hero Global Citizen will lead the charge.

He added: "Global Citizen had a lovely prep race for the Johnny Henderson (Grand Annual) at Wincanton and he goes back there for that in the same form as last year.

"We've got a nice few to look forward to. Fingers crossed we are competitive and we can pick one up.

"I think we've got a fairly strong hand in the Boodles, we've also got a strong hand in the Kim Muir and Shakem Up/Arry will be fine over two and a half in this ground in the Plate."

It is set to be a family affair in both the National Hunt Chase and the Fulke Walwyn Kim Muir where Jack and Gina Andrews will both partner a Pauling runner in each race.

Mallinello and Harper's Brook are likely to put their stamina to the test in the longer of the two contests which leaves Slipway and Nightinlambourn to take aim at the Kim Muir.

"Gina and Jack Andrews will both have one in the three-mile-six for me and one in the Kim Muir," Pauling continued.

HORSE RACING: COUNTDOWN TO

COBDEN

Harry's got a Cob on over Irish stars

HARRY Cobden believes he is going into the Cheltenham Festival with the strongest book of rides he has had for several seasons.

The 24-year-old is the stable jockey to 13-time champion trainer Paul Nicholls, for whom he enjoyed his greatest Festival success to date when landing the 2019 RSA Chase aboard Topofthegame – a race now known as the Brown Advisory Novices' Chase.

Cobden's other Festival triumph came aboard Colin Tizzard's Kilbricken Storm in the Albert Bartlett Novices' Hurdle in 2018, with Festival rides since Topofthegame's victory proving winless.

Best

This season, however, the team at Ditchheat have high hopes for a string of contenders that include Bravemansgame, Tahmuras and Hermes Allen.

Cobden – who was stood down following a fall at Ffos Las on Sunday, but later described as "absolutely fine" by his agent Sam Stronge in a Twitter update – said: "Certainly in the time I've been at Ditchheat we would be going to Cheltenham with our best team with the likes of Bravemansgame, Hermes Allen and Tahmuras.

By MIKE FRANCIS

"It is quite exciting and fingers crossed we have a bit of luck there this year.

"I think for the last few years there have not been too many stand-out teams we have sent to Cheltenham.

"We've had good horses like Politologue and Silviniaco Conti, but they were not Denman, Big Buck's or Kauto Star, and whether we will ever see horses like that again, who knows?"

Despite a winner proving elusive, Cobden still feels the Nicholls runners have posted good performances but ultimately have not been able to get the better of horses trained in the big Irish powerhouse stables.

He said: "The last couple of seasons Paul has had 143 and 176 winners and we go to Cheltenham and we end up having horses that put in career bests to finish third or fourth behind some Willie Mullins or Gordon Elliott-trained hotpot.

"It can be frustrating, but I wouldn't say it has ever got me down as you get off one and put your colours on and go back out for the next race. Racing is a great leveller as for 30 minutes you can be down then in your next ride you could have a winner.

"I've been lucky enough to have a couple of winners at the Cheltenham Festival with Kilbricken Storm and Topofthegame and they were amazing days. It would be lovely to walk away with just one winner from this year's meeting."

Bravemansgame is Cobden's hope for the Gold Cup, with the eight-year-old currently the leading British chance and second-favourite behind Willie Mullins' Galopin Des Champs.

Last seen securing an impressive 14-length King George VI Chase success, the bay will tackle a three-mile-two-furlong trip for the first time in March – but his rider is not concerned about his ability to stay.

Tested

"I don't think the extra quarter of a mile will be a problem," he said.

"He is a good traveller and I think I've learnt to ride him a lot better now. He was very good at Kempton considering how wide he went.

"To my mind the only question would be the track because he has won on a lot of big galloping tracks and he has never really been tested on an undulating course. He is a well-balanced good jumper so I don't think that will be an issue.

"The Irish horse (Galopin Des Champs) is the one they are going mad about, but I think he has been overlooked. "When he has come up short before he has always had an excuse, whereas on Boxing Day he had no excuses.

"I thought it was his race to lose and I thought he showed how tough he was from the back of the fourth last to the line. I was at him a long way out. He put his head down and galloped all the way to the line. He jumped great and was very brave.

The fact he has only had two runs and before going straight there will make a big difference this season as he has been specifically trained for this race."

Cobden will also ride Hermes Allen, the 9-4 favourite for the Ballymore Novices' Hurdle having won all three of his hurdles starts – latterly landing the Grade One Challow Hurdle by a conclusive margin.

"Hermes Allen is probably our best chance of a winner there this year. The only thing he did well at home before going to Stratford first time out was jump as he never really galloped that fast, but when he gets to the track he is a different animal," said Cobden.

"I thought he was very impressive at Newbury in the Challow Hurdle. He jumped well and went a very good gallop on soft ground."

NEXT WEEK'S CHELTENHAM FESTIVAL

WILLIE WANTS A WHITEWASH

LAST season's Cheltenham Festival meeting was a Willie Mullins whitewash – and he is not leaving anything to chance in pursuit of something similar next week.

Having won a remarkable 10 races over the four days at Prestbury Park – taking his tally at the Festival to a record 88 winners – the Closutton handler revealed he has painted all the bars on his schooling fences and hurdles white.

White markings on the frames, guard rails and take-off boards replaced traditional orange colourings on obstacles at every British racecourse last year.

The British Horseracing Authority's decision for the colour change, following guidance from experts at Exeter University into horse vision, came in the interests of horse welfare and safety.

In years past, Mullins has worked and schooled horses at Leopardstown prior to running at Cheltenham.

This year will be a little different, however. Speaking at the Dublin track to Racing TV on Sunday, he explained: "I don't see much point in schooling here, if they all jump well."

"Unless someone comes round with a bucket of whitewash tomorrow and paints those fences, I don't see much point in schooling over the orange bars."

"I've put in a whole new schooling operation with white hurdles and fences and we'll do our stuff at home." Mullins is a stickler for details and knows that with competition so fierce at the Festival, every mistake is magnified.

By JACK FARLEY

He added: "Some horses could go down (and jump) over blue fences, yellow fences, it wouldn't matter a damn to them – they are just that cool."

"Other horses will look at them from a half-mile out and they will see something different, so you never know which one, especially in the shorter races if you want to be up there and have your position."

"You don't want to have them looking at the first hurdle and backing off it or the first fence and backing off it, because you just lose your position and then at Cheltenham you are playing catch-up the whole time."

Crossed

"Whereas round the country tracks or not at the big meetings, it doesn't matter so much, as you'll get your ground back much easier – but at Cheltenham, no one gives you an inch."

"So what you lose at the first hurdle or fence, it's gone, you are not going to get it back."

Mullins said his powerful string has taken to the painted obstacles well and is looking forward to the meeting, which starts on Tuesday week.

"They are jumping them every second day at home, so we're good."

He added: "Fingers crossed, toes crossed, everything crossed. We are happy with how things are."

"You are always going to get little upsets, but we still have another week to go before we travel. Things will come right, but nothing major."

SCEAU SET TO SWERVE FESTIVAL

By MIKE FRANCIS

THE ever-popular Sceau Royal is set to stay over hurdles, with connections mulling over a run at either Aintree or Sandown before the end of the season.

The Alan King-trained 11-year-old was at his best in the autumn, winning a Kempton Listed hurdle for the second season in a row before finishing a good second to Knappers Hill in the Grade Two Elite Hurdle at Wincanton.

Although struggling to make his mark in both Kempton's Christmas Hurdle and when switched to fences at the Dublin Racing Festival, he showed his old zest when encountering spring ground in Fontwell's National Spirit Hurdle recently – finishing just over a length behind the winner Brewin'upastorm.

Now he is set for one further appearance before the current campaign draws to a close – and having proven he now stays further than the bare two miles the Aintree Hurdle on April 13 or the bet365 Select Hurdle on the final day of the season are possible options.

"He's quite remarkable, isn't he – to be 11 and still running to that level," said King.

"We were delighted with the run and he was giving the winner 6lb as well at Fontwell."

"We will freshen him up and regroup and he will either go to Aintree or Sandown."

"I think we will probably stay down the hurdles route with him now, he seems a little bit happier over hurdles these days."

"He proved at Fontwell he gets two and a half these days and he's just a pleasure to train." A winner of 17 of his 50 career appearances, Sceau Royal is already well into the twilight of his career, with King appreciating a conversation will soon be had about his future. However, he is hopeful his admirable stable stalwart will stick around at Barbury Castle for a little while longer.

He added: "He will have one more run this season and I'm sure we will have a chat, but I very much hope we get him back for another year because he's loving his training and he will tell us when he's had enough."

RETIRING: Les Eyre

Veteran trainer Les calls it a day

THE career of Ebor-winning trainer Les Eyre has come to an end as he sent out his last runner on Saturday.

Based in Catwick near Beverley in East Yorkshire, Eyre has held a licence since 1988 and initially trained jumps horses.

Success came when switching to the Flat code, though his homebred mare Celestial Choir proved to be useful in all manner of races when winning on the all-weather, on the Flat on turf, over hurdles and over fences – landing the Dipper Chase in 1998.

Prior to that victory Eyre enjoyed a famous 'local' triumph in the 1997 Ebor with Far Ahead, whom Tyrone Williams rode to victory at 33-1 at York.

Nigrasine, winner of the Listed John of Gaunt Stakes in 1998, was another high-quality horse Eyre handled throughout his career, which was punctuated by a 12-year stint in Mijas, Spain.

Whilst in warmer climes Eyre trained a winner of the Mijas Cup before returning to Yorkshire in 2014 to resume his career on the domestic front.

Recent highs have been provided by Just Frank, winner of the £150,000 October Auction Stakes at Newmarket in 2020 and now in the care of Tim Easterby, and horses like Bedford Flyer and Fame And Acclaim, both of whom will now be trained by Mick Appleby.

"There have been so many good days, the obvious one is when we won the Ebor but I've had many a good day when we've won a small race at Pontefract or Beverley," Eyre said.

"They were less salubrious but just as good, I've always enjoyed trying to make people happy and a small owner was always just as important to me as a bigger one."

Celestial Choir lives on at stud and is still happy and well at the age 33 having produced three winners from four foals.

Eyre said: "She was unbelievable, she retired to an old owner of mine called Lady Jennifer Green and she sent me a photo only last week and she's still going strong at 33."

"She went to Cheltenham favourite or second-favourite over both hurdles and fences."

"I think just about everything she's bred has won, she was marvellous."

Keano: United a disgrace at Anfield

OLD TRAFFORD LEGEND STILL FUMING OVER 7-0 SHOCKER

SHELL SHOCKED:
Rashford
at Anfield

MANCHESTER UNITED players should be “ashamed” and “embarrassed” by their performance in their record 7-0 Premier League defeat to Liverpool, according to Roy Keane.

The Reds scored six times after the break to condemn United to their heaviest defeat since 1931.

Cody Gakpo broke the deadlock late in the first half before two goals apiece from Darwin Nunez and Mohamed Salah, who became Liverpool's record Premier League scorer, another one for Gakpo and a Roberto Firmino effort earned Liverpool their biggest ever win over their bitter rivals.

Former United skipper Keane told Sky Sports: “It’s obviously a very, very bad day, shocking day, really. The goal just before half-time and the second half.

“United, the senior players were... use all the words, embarrassing, didn’t show any leadership skills, particularly the senior players.

“The goals they gave away were shocking.

“Tough, tough day for United. Thank God, I’ve never been part of a team that’s been beaten by that much playing for Manchester United.

By ANDY MILLOM

“The players will be embarrassed, they’ll no doubt be ashamed of their performance. Particularly the second half when the going got tough, they just went missing. To give up that many goals...”

Former United defender Gary Neville said: “The second half has been an absolute disgrace, a shambles, epitomised by no-one more than the captain, Bruno Fernandes, who I think has been embarrassing at times in this game.

“But I have to say it’s not their usual performance, it’s not their usual spirit, it’s not their usual form and he (manager Erik Ten Hag) will deal with it, I’m sure, very quickly like he’s dealt with other difficult situations this season.”

He added: “It can swallow you up here at Anfield. I’ve experienced it myself, but never to this level. You might lose 2-0, you might lose 2-1, you might lose 3-1 – you don’t lose 7-0.

“You do not get beat 7-0 at Anfield if you’re a Manchester United team or player.”

In contrast, former Liverpool player and manager Graeme Souness was hugely impressed by the Reds’ second-half display. He said: “Liverpool were sensational in the second half. I said at half-time, treat this as a 0-0, win the second half, but I did not expect that.

PAINFUL VIEWING:
Keane

“After the second or third goal, Manchester United were just second to everything after that, and the result doesn’t flatter Liverpool.

“They (United) just didn’t compete in the second half and Liverpool just ran right over them.” Now it’s all about how the Red Devils handle their Anfield setback.

United bounced back from humiliating defeats by Brighton and Brentford in their first two games of the season by beating Liverpool in August. They also made a winning response to October’s 6-3 loss at neighbours Manchester City.

“I have some (similar experiences in my career) that are the bad days,” Ten Hag said.

Pattern

“But also (they) are the days if you do the right things, if you react with the right measures as a manager and as a team you can learn a lot from it, you can strengthen your mentality.”

The defeat seemingly extinguishes United’s hopes of a title charge, but their largely positive performances this season means Ten Hag will not get carried away.

“If it was more often then it’s a pattern, but we had so many good results in the last weeks, months, so many good performances,” he added.

“This was a bad performance, and I talk about the second half, because first half we played really well. Played really decent.”

MANAGERS UNITE TO SLAG OFF REF

STEVE COOPER and Sean Dyche both criticised referee John Brooks for his performance in the enthralling 2-2 draw between Nottingham Forest and Everton.

By PAUL THOMAS

First-half goals from Demarai Gray and Abdoulaye Doucoure had put the Toffees on course for a third win in six games under Dyche at the City Ground.

But Brennan Johnson, who cancelled out Gray's early penalty, ensured his side earned a share of the spoils with his second 13 minutes from time and kept Everton, and the other sides below them in the relegation battle, at arm's length.

But Forest had issue with the build-up to Doucoure's goal as there appeared to be a foul on Morgan Gibbs-White that Brooks ignored, while Dyche was "amazed" his side did not get a second penalty after Seamus Coleman went down under a challenge from Jack Colback.

Cooper said the official had "too much impact" on the game.

"There will be a lot of talk about the referee's performance. Both teams were going for it but the referee has had too much involvement really," he said.

"I'm disappointed, I'm not going to say anything that is going to get me in trouble but he had too much impact on the game and there were some defining moments.

"The key one was the decision that ended up with the ball going in the box for the second goal. Yes we should do better with it but it shouldn't have gone into our box because it should have been a foul the other way to Morgan.

"And when (James) Tarkowski gets booked on (Renan) Lodi, fine, yellow card, no problem, but he has blown up and Brennan has a one-v-one.

"That cannot happen at this level. It's not good for him either, because he is going to be gutted with that and probably will be looked at, I hope, by the people responsible.

"It's a pity things like that are affecting games.

"They have done alright out of the referee today, Everton. And to be fair there were some small things that went our way, but the big things went for them.

"It was two teams having a go and both teams will want to win or lose the game by what we do as a team, and, unfortunately, I'm not saying it's all down to the ref, but they are just moments that can't happen at this level."

Dyche said of the first-half incident involving Coleman and Colback: "Amazed we didn't get a second penalty, but I don't know what's a penalty any more.

"You touch someone on the shoulder and they go down, it's a penalty. Seamus gets there, puts his foot in front of him, he kicks his foot and it's not a penalty. I don't know where that lives.

"I asked the referee and he didn't think it was a penalty. I said 'I don't know what is then'. My way of looking at it is, if someone has broken in front of you, if you touch or are around them, even in my day, it is a penalty."

The draw kept Forest four points above Everton in the relegation battle, but the Toffees appear to be on an upward trend under Dyche, having taken seven points from his six games in charge.

RUSSELL: GIVE IT TO RED BULL NOW

FORMULA ONE

GEORGE Russell reckons Max Verstappen's Red Bull team will win all 23 races this year.

Defending world champion Verstappen picked up where he left off with a crushing display to take the chequered flag at Formula One's season opener in Sakhir, crossing the line 11 seconds clear of Sergio Perez in the other Red Bull.

As Verstappen dominated, 41-year-old Fernando Alonso provided the spark to a tame race as he duelled with old foe Lewis Hamilton to claim the final spot on the podium. Hamilton finished fifth.

But Alonso, albeit in a rejuvenated Aston Martin, took the chequered flag nearly 40 seconds behind Verstappen, with Hamilton 51 adrift.

"Red Bull have got this championship sewn up and I don't think anybody will be fighting with them this year," said Russell, who finished seventh on a sobering evening for Mercedes.

"They should win every single race this season. With the performance they have got I don't see anyone challenging them. They have got it easy at the moment, and they can do what they like. They might not take every pole – because Ferrari are competitive over one lap – but when it comes to race pace, they are in a strong position."

Verstappen has won 10 of the last 12 races, and 17 of the past 24 – stretching back to his contentious triumph over Hamilton in Abu Dhabi which brought the curtain down on an F1 season for the ages.

However, a period of dominance has ensued. Red Bull mastered an overhaul in regulations to allow Verstappen to take his second consecutive championship with four rounds to spare last year, and his display here did little to dampen expectations that he will secure a hat-trick of titles.

However, Mercedes have not only fallen further behind Red Bull this year, but been usurped by Aston Martin, too.

Team principal Toto Wolff has waved the white flag on this season's championship by turning his attention to a new design for next year, and ditching a planned upgrade to come at the fifth round of the season in Imola.

Russell added: "We can't beat around the bush. It is a big blow for all of us, but if we have to sacrifice races, or part of the season to give ourselves a chance to get a car that can fight – if that is the second half of the season or looking towards next year – then that is what we will have to do because clearly we are a long way behind.

"We are here to fight for championships. We are here to win and nobody remembers who finishes second or third. If I finish second or seventh in the championship this season it makes no difference.

"I am here to win races. I want to win championships and that is what every single person in Mercedes is here to do. If we need to make drastic changes to give ourselves a shot in the second half of the year, that is what we will do."

CONCERN: Harry Kane

Kane's top four fears as Spurs bottle it

HARRY Kane admits he's worried that Tottenham have blown their chance to cement their top-four credentials.

Adama Traore's late goal saw Spurs slip to a 1-0 defeat at Wolves on Saturday.

They remain fourth in the Premier League but missed the opportunity to move seven points clear of Newcastle, who lost 2-0 at Manchester City.

It's not the first time Spurs have failed to take their chance to cash in on rivals slipping up.

Tottenham have still played two more games than many of their top-four rivals and travel to St James' Park in April.

"It's been tough, a really disappointing week. All we can do is look forward now," said Kane, with Spurs having also crashed out of the FA Cup at Sheffield United.

"We have 12 or 13 games now to push for that top-four place.

"The games come around quick and we have to look to the next one and make sure we win.

"If we'd won we would have been in a really good spot with the last third of the season to play.

"There's still going to be points dropped and we need to concentrate on ourselves and finish as strong as possible."

Wolves are six points above the drop zone after a fourth win in eight games to continue their survival bid.

Molineux boss Julen Lopetegui was appointed when the side were second bottom and has won six of his 15 games.

He said: "Always the three points are very, very important.

"In the last match against Liverpool, we couldn't get any points and we were disappointed, but now we are very happy.

"I have to be honest to highlight Tottenham's work, in the first half they overcame us.

"The second half we came better, we tried to work on the difficulties.

"In the end we won but it was a very balanced match, very hard, as are all the matches in the Premier League.

"That's what I want to highlight to the team in the bad moments, it's important to keep going, keep working, and think of the next match.

"We have a lot of points ahead of us."

IT'S DEFINITELY SQUEAKY BUM

FORTNIGHT TO DEFINE OUR SEASON

City boss reckons next couple of games will decide if Champions are on a high or a low

PEP Guardiola believes the next fortnight could determine whether Manchester City's season proves a success or failure.

The champions, who are chasing three trophies this term, now have a free week before returning to action with a Premier League trip to Crystal Palace next Saturday.

They then face two knockout games in the following days, with RB Leipzig and Burnley visiting in the Champions League and FA Cup respectively.

City boss Guardiola is now giving his players a short break after a hard-fought 2-0 win over Newcastle on Saturday, but wants them to hit the ground running when they return.

"We have two days off for everyone," said the Spaniard.

"It is necessary we don't see each other for a while, it's been really tough for everyone with travels and no days off.

"But then after that, before the international break, we have three games, each in a different competition, that will define our season."

"We have Crystal Palace, Leipzig and Burnley.

"They will define what we want to do or are able to do for the rest of the season."

Phil Foden and Bernardo Silva scored the goals as City maintained their pursuit of Arsenal at the top of the Premier League by seeing off Newcastle at the Etihad Stadium.

Arsenal's last-gasp victory at Bournemouth later in the day meant the gap would remain at five points, but City's performance underlined their determination not to relinquish their title easily.

City went ahead through Foden's superb strike after 15 minutes but needed to weather a storm after Newcastle fought back. The visitors were the dominant side until Silva came off the bench to wrap up victory in the 67th minute.

"It was a very important win against a very, very good side," said Silva.

"The game was very tough, they put us under pressure in a lot of moments."

"We're very happy with the three points and (being on) the right path to to fight for this title."

Injuries

Silva also had words of praise for Foden.

The England midfielder has endured a difficult spell since the World Cup with injuries and illness compounding a downturn in form, but he now looks to be returning to his best.

His fine solo strike was his fourth goal in three games.

Silva said: "It was a top goal from Phil. He's struggled a little bit with this injury and everything, but he is back. When he is in this form he is sometimes unstoppable."

Guardiola is full of praise for Foden who has come through a little rocky patch.

The City boss said: "Phil has this special ability but I when I spoke to him I said what has happened to him is normal, it is what should happen."

"He arrived at 17 years old and trained with us—here, here, national team, European Cup, World Cup, winning titles."

"Every year he was a little better than the year before but the moment you go down, accept it, it's really part of it."

"He struggled with his ankle, but accept it."

"Don't blame the other ones, don't blame the opponents, don't blame the manager or the club."

"Accept it, you can do better and step by step, they will be back. Of course now he is scoring goals."

"What happened to Phil is completely normal. Just accept it

TIME FOR PEP GUARDIOLA

BACK TO FORM:
Phil Foden has overcome his injuries and is scoring again

and the bad moments shall pass. The good moments will always come back."

Newcastle's fine campaign appears to be running out of steam. Coming a week after losing in the Carabao Cup final, the defeat extended their winless run in the Premier League to five games.

Chief among their worries is a lack of goals, with none scored in their last three outings.

Moments

With Liverpool now looking in top form again, the Magpies boss is worried about keeping his team in the top four.

Manager Eddie Howe said: "I'm not going to lie and say it's not a concern, because of course it is, but I think if you're still creating chances, and we did here, then that's a positive."

"We didn't create an abundance of chances because we were playing against one of the best teams in world football, but we had the moments and I back the players over the long term to start scoring again."

"We need to, that's a fact, because the confidence of the team is dependent on it really. That's certainly something for us to reflect on."

"I think when you lose a huge game, then naturally there is a disappointment within the group. I'd have been surprised if there wasn't."

"We had work to do during the week but I don't think you saw a team wallowing in any kind of self-pity or in any negative moment."

"Our overall performance has been very good."

"They've been high-level games, and we've gone toe-to-toe with all of those teams. We've come out beaten but, on the general performance, that's probably a harsh reflection."

ABADA THE LIEL DEAL FOR ANGE

ANGE Postecoglou has paid tribute to Liel Abada for not sulking on the Celtic bench.

The Israel international has started just 16 of Celtic's 39 games this season but has come off the bench in most of the others.

The 21-year-old has now delivered 12 goals and seven assists and Celtic manager Postecoglou stressed his importance whether he starts or not.

Postecoglou said: "It's important that the guys who come on make an impact."

"The fact they're not starting doesn't affect their mindset. Liel has played a lot of football over the last 18 months for us and he's scored a lot of goals and supplied a lot of assists."

"He's still got a way to improve, I'm sure, but again he's another within the group who just wants to be better. Consistently, he makes a contribution."

Man City ready to swoop for £60m Croatia super stopper

By JOHN ANTHONY

MANCHESTER CITY are lining up a summer move for Croatia World Cup defender Josko Gvardiol.

It looks as though Paris St Germain will swoop for Aymeric Laporte and that will leave a big gap in Pep Guardiola's rear guard.

The French centre-back has fallen slightly out of favour at the Etihad and looks set to leave for the French capital at the end of the season.

And RB Leipzig stopper Gvardiol has been earmarked to replace the wantaway 28-year-old.

He caught the eye of the City boss when hitting the target as the teams met in the Champions League.

But Guardiola won't have the field to himself with a host of other clubs also in the hunt. Real Madrid are known admirers while moneybags Chelsea, Liverpool and Manchester United would all have something to say should it become an auction.

Gvardiol is only 21 and is considered one of the best defenders in Europe.

He came close to signing for Chelsea last year with the Bridge Boys thought to have agreed a £60m move before the deal fell through.

Gvardiol has more than three years left on his deal with Leipzig and his release clause is a hefty £97m – that would surely be too high with the original £60m looking more like it.

But the clause does not apply this coming summer which means he's likely to move then.

Liverpool know Virgil Van Dijk is on the way out and are looking for a new partner for Ibrahima Konate.
